

An aerial photograph of a coastal city, likely Seattle, showing a mix of modern high-rise buildings and older structures. The city is situated on a peninsula or near a large body of water, with a road and parking lots visible in the foreground. The sky is overcast with soft, diffused light.

ANNUAL REPORT
2018-2019